

A TWO-PART DOCUMENTARY from Matthew Reeve chronicling his father Christopher's struggle to walk again will be released on DVD on Nov. 6. Reeve died in 2004.

SOURCE: ew.com

MISSY ELLIOTT, right, has partnered with Doritos for a multiplatform ad campaign, which includes a TV spot and an exclusive song. The TV spot will debut Sept. 17.

SOURCE: ew.com

THE CURE have cancelled their planned North American fall tour, saying they will make up the dates next spring.

SOURCE: ew.com

ABOVE: ForestEthics star Tzeporah Berman is the driving force behind the "go green" message at the DiCaprio premiere.

ABOVE: Battlestar Galactica's Alisen Down looks elegant in black at the DiCaprio premiere.

ABOVE: Look for actress Missy Peregrym, seen here at the DiCaprio premiere, in the new sci-fi/comedy series Reaper, this fall.

RIGHT: H&M store assistants Rachel Krischuk, left, and Ashlee Coulthard get busy setting up displays for opening night.

The L Word actresses Marlee Matlin, left, and Mia Kirshner walk the green carpet at the DiCaprio premiere.

LEFT: Men In Trees actor Nick Lea, left, and Battlestar Galactica's Aaron Douglas are among the B.C. celebs at the DiCaprio premiere.

RIGHT: Looking red hot at the green premiere of Leonardo DiCaprio's film is Stargate-5G1's sexy pair of pin-ups, Lexa Doig and Michael Shanks.

Looking good, saving Earth

Heartthrob Leonardo DiCaprio is out to prove he's more than just a pretty face. Last week, at Vancouver's Fifth Avenue Cinemas, local and international celebs came out to the premiere of his new documentary — The 11th Hour.

DiCaprio produced and narrated this eco-film, which emphasizes the urgent situation facing our constantly diminishing and changing world.

Stars walked the "green" carpet and proved

SOCIAL EYES

CATHERINE 'CAT' BARR
info@catherinebarr.com

that you can still look good while saving the Earth. And speaking of stylish, there's a new celeb in town. H&M (Hennes & Mauritz) — a name known around the world — has landed in Coquitlam. The Swedish-based clothing store, which features runway fashions at bargain prices, opened its doors last week. Media night featured an invite-only preview and long lines at the change rooms as we all cashed in our paychecks in the name of fashion.

Cat Calls? Please visit www.catherinebarr.com to submit your event or e-mail info@catherinebarr.com. She can also be heard on CFUN 1410 AM radio Fridays at 4 p.m.

RIGHT: Shaw Express host Johanna Ward interviews H&M area manager Tim Galantowicz at the Coquitlam opening.

ABOVE: H&M Canada president Lucy van der Wal, left, and PR lady Shauna McMahon fly in from Toronto for the big opening night.

ABOVE: Greenprint events' Emily Murgatroyd, left, teams up with Nightwatching actress Emily Holmes at the DiCaprio premiere.

HOST
TRISH STRATUS

JUDGE
JOE FLAHERTY

JUDGE
ELVIRA KURT

JUDGE
MICK NAPIER

IMPRESS THE JUDGES
OR GET TORN TO SHREDS.

The Second City's
NEXT COMEDY LEGEND

Tonight at 9

cbc.ca/nextcomedylegend